THE UNIVERSITY

Boston College is one of the twenty-eight colleges and universities in the United States conducted by the Society of Jesus. The Boston College Law School is one of the thirteen American law schools conducted by the same Jesuit Order.* The university traditions of Boston College and its Law School are the product of four centuries of academic experience and educational idealism of the Society of Jesus which, since its foundation by Ignatius Loyola in 1534, has established and conducted institutions of higher learning in all parts of the world.

The foundation of Boston College arose from the foresight and energy of the scholarly John McElroy, S.J., the Superior of the first Jesuit community in New England. This community, still located in famous Old Saint Mary's in Boston, was established in 1849. Eight years later, with the Society's traditional devotion to higher education, Father McElroy secured a tract of land and erected a group of collegiate buildings on Harrison Avenue in Boston, the present site of the Boston College Preparatory School. He was assisted in this undertaking by an eminent group of civic leaders of all religious faiths, headed by the honorable Alexander H. Rice, then Mayor of the City of Boston and subsequently Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Boston College was legally incorporated by an act of the Massachusetts Legislature, approved April 1, 1863, by the Bay State's great Civil War Governor, the honorable John A. Andrew. The charter authorized the Trustees of Boston College to confer all degrees usually conferred by universities in the Commonwealth, except medical degrees. This single restriction on the university charter was removed by legislative amendment, approved April 1, 1908.

The formal opening of Boston College was delayed by the outbreak of the Civil War, and for a time the buildings were used as a House of Studies for student members of the Society of Jesus. However, formal collegiate instruction was commenced on September 5, 1864, under the presidency of John Bapst, S.J., and the deanship of Robert Fulton, S.J. From the days of its auspicious foundation, Boston College has steadfastly predicated its growth upon a rigid adherence to the high scholastic standards which characterize the educational ideals and the university traditions developed by the Jesuit Order in its four hundred years of world-wide experience in conducting institutions of higher learning.

*These institutions are listed on the inside back cover.

UNIVERSITY HEIGHTS

The year 1913 was most significant in the university development of Boston College. In that year, under the presidency of Thomas I. Gasson, S.J., one of the most beloved and far-seeing administrators in its history, the site of Boston College was transferred from downtown Boston to the present extensive and picturesque campus on Chestnut Hill. University Heights, one of the most beautiful collegiate campuses in the United States, lies partly in Boston and partly in the City of Newton; it is adjacent to and overlooks the graceful twin lakes of the Chestnut Hill Reservoir. The buildings already erected on University Heights, several of which are pictured in this Bulletin, have been universally acclaimed as unsurpassed monuments of Collegiate Gothic in America.

Since the transfer of the campus to University Heights, other schools have been founded and added to the original College of Arts and Sciences. The Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, the College of Business Administration, and the Summer School of Arts and Sciences are conducted at University Heights. At the present time, the Law School, the College of Arts and Sciences Intown, the School of Social Work, the School of Nursing, and the Institute of Adult Education are conveniently located in downtown Boston. The School of Liberal Arts in Lenox occupies the famous Shadowbrook Estate in the heart of the Massachusetts Berkshires. The School of Philosophy, and the School of Theology, are situated in Weston, Massachusetts. The latter three schools are restricted to student members of the Jesuit Order. The internationally known Seismological Observatory of Boston College is located on the Weston Campus, about six miles from University Heights.

ACCREDITATION

Boston College is a member of or accredited by the following educational associations: The American Council of Education, The Association of American Universities, the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, The Association of American Law Schools, the American Bar Association, the Board of Regents of the State of New York, the American Association of Schools of Social Work, The American Chemical Society, the National Catholic Educational Association, The American Jesuit Educational Association, and other similar organizations.

THE LAW SCHOOL

The Trustees of Boston College, with the active support and co-operation of many eminent members of the bench and bar in Massachusetts, established the Boston College Law School in 1929. Formal instruction was commenced on September 26, 1929, and the first class was graduated on June 15, 1932. With the graduation of the first class, the School was officially approved by the American Bar Association. Upon its first application, in 1937, the School was elected to membership in the Association of American Law Schools. Women students were admitted to the School in 1940. There has never been any discrimination of any kind in the Boston College Law School on the basis of racial or national origin or religious conviction.

At present the Law School is located in downtown Boston at eighteen Tremont Street, a few steps from the federal, state and municipal courts, the State House and the State Library. The world-famous Public Library of the City of Boston is but a few minutes away.

THE PROPOSED LAW SCHOOL BUILDING

Boston College plans the construction, within the next few years, of a new Law School Building on the campus at University Heights. The new building, a tentative sketch of which appears in this Bulletin, will be of Collegiate Gothic in harmony with the architecture of the buildings already erected on the campus. The Law School Building will contain, besides ample provisions for administrative and faculty offices and classrooms, a Law Library with a main Reading Room seating two hundred and fifty students, a spacious Browsing Room for quasi-legal materials, book stacks with a capacity of two hundred thousand volumes (constructed to permit further expansion), individual study carrels in the stacks for graduate students, several seminar and special study rooms, a Moot Court Room and Academic Auditorium seating five hundred, an attractive Students' Lounge and Cafeteria, students' lockers and other conveniences which will make the Law School a completely self-contained unit on the University Heights campus. The new building is designed to provide every necessary and useful facility for students who wish to pursue the study of law in an atmosphere of scholarship and culture, surrounded by extraordinary architectural and natural beauty. Additional plans call for the eventual construction of a Residence Hall for law students adjoining or near the Law School Building.

PURPOSE OF THE LAW SCHOOL

The purpose of the Boston College Law School is to prepare young men and women of intelligence, industry and character, for careers of public service in the administration of justice,—and to equip them for positions of leadership in advancing the ideals of justice in our democratic society. With this two-fold objective, students are given a rigorous training in the principles and rules, the standards and techniques of the law, not as positivistic ends in themselves, but as rational means, capable of constant improvement, to the attainment of objective justice in civil society.

For the Boston College Law School is dedicated to the philosophy that there is in fact an objective moral order, to which human beings and human societies are bound in conscience to conform, and upon which the peace and happiness of personal, national and international life depend. The mandatory aspect of the objective moral order is called the natural law. In virtue of the natural law, fundamentally equal human beings are endowed with certain natural rights and obligations to enable them to attain, in human dignity, the divine destiny decreed by their Creator. These natural rights and obligations are inalienable precisely because they are God-given. They are antecedent therefore, both in logic and in nature, to the formation of civil society. They are not granted by the beneficence of the state; wherefore the tyranny of a state cannot destroy them. Rather it is the high moral responsibility of civil society, through the instrumentality of its civil laws, to acknowledge their existence and to protect their exercise, to foster and facilitate their enjoyment by the wise and scientific implementation of the natural law with a practical and consonant code of civil rights and obligations.

The construction and maintenance of a corpus juris implementing the natural law is a perpetual and monumental task demanding the constant devotion of the best brains and the most mature scholarship of the legal profession. For the fundamental principles of the natural law, universal and immutable as the human nature from which they derive, require rational application to the constantly changing political, economic and social conditions of civil society. The application of the natural law postulates change as the circumstances of human existence change. It repudiates a naive and smug complacency in the status quo. It demands a reasoned acceptance of the good, and a rejection of the bad, in all that is new. It commands a critical search for the better. It directs an exhaustive search into all the available data of history, politics, economics, sociology, psychology, philosophy, and every other pertinent font of human knowledge. And, of primary importance, it insists that the constant search for a better corpus juris be made in the light of the origin, nature, purpose and limitations of the state; and in the knowledge of the origin, nature, dignity and destiny of man. This traditional American philosophy of law is opposed today, even within the legal profession, by the philosophies of Positivism, Pragmatism, Realism and Utilitarianism—all of which have an ideological common denominator in Subjectivism, and none of which can offer an adequate reply to the destructive philosophy of Totalitarianism.

The Boston College Law School is deeply conscious of the heritage of the American philosophy of law. It is profoundly aware of its educational responsibility to the students who seek its instruction, and of its civic responsibility to the people who look to its graduates for professional service and civic leadership. Hence, it strives to impart to its students, in addition to every skill necessary for the every-day practice of law, an intellectual appreciation of the philosophy which produced and supports our democratic society. For it is only by the intellectual recognition and the skillful application of the natural law to the principles and rules, the standards and procedures of the civil law, that civil society can hope to approach the objective order of justice intended by the Creator for rational and spiritual human beings.

METHOD OF INSTRUCTION

The program and method of instruction employed in the Boston College Law School is designed to prepare and equip the student to practice law wherever, in the United States or in other countries, the Anglo-American system of law prevails. Hence, there is a thorough insistence upon the common law and upon the important statutory enactments of the federal and state governments. The laws peculiar to Massachusetts, the other New England states, and the most progressive jurisdictions of the country, are noted in all courses. Courses in public law have been expanded and integrated with the traditional courses in private law, in accordance with the current development of American law.

The case method of instruction, now employed in all leading American law schools, has been followed since the foundation of this School. The excellence of this method rests upon the principle that in the law, as in every other intellectual field, the most efficient training and the highest scholarship come from an intensive study of the primary sources of knowledge. Both casebooks and textbooks are assigned for most courses; however, the textbook is designated for private study supplemental to the classroom use of the casebook, which is the chief instrument of instruction. The textbook outlines expert opinion about the law; the casebook presents the primary source of legal science, the law itself, in a carefully organized selection of authoritative and significant judicial decisions which reveal the law in action, the reasons for its rules, the spirit of its growth, the trends in its development, the whole living ratio of the judicial process in its constant search for objective justice.

By the case method of instruction, the student is trained in the science of the law, in the art of legal analysis, and in the solution of legal problems by the same practical process of reasoning and research which he must utilize in his subsequent legal career. He is given a rigorous training to enable him to analyze complicated facts, to evaluate the social problems involved, to discern therein the real issues of law, to discover the pertinent legal principles and standards, to find the applicable case and statute law, and to solve the legal problem by an accurate and logical use of principle and authority. All students are required to make diligent preparation of assigned work and to participate actively in the classroom discussion of cases and materials. They are encouraged to confer privately with members of the Faculty at all reasonable times.

MORNING AND EVENING DIVISION

The study of law is a difficult and exacting pursuit of the gravest individual and social importance. Hence, it is the policy of the Boston College Law School to urge all candidates to enroll in the Morning Division which is designed for students who devote substantially all their working time to their studies. Classes in the Morning Division are conducted daily from Monday through Friday. The normal class load is thirteen hours per week. The course is three academic years.

For the benefit of those who find it impossible to give full time to the study of law, the School conducts an Evening Division which is substantially equivalent to the Morning Division in its program of instruction, the personnel of its instructors, the total number of class hours and credits, and the character and grading standards of its examinations. To reduce transportation time and to conserve the maximum time for study and classroom preparation, classes in the Evening Division are concentrated on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings. The normal class load is nine hours per week. The course is four academic years.

ACCELERATED FEBRUARY CLASS

All students admitted to begin the study of law in September now take the regular three-year course in the Morning Division, and the regular four-year course in the Evening Division. However, for the benefit of applicants who will not complete their pre-legal studies until January, 1950, and who otherwise would be compelled to postpone their legal education until September, 1950,—students will be admitted to the Morning Division in February, 1950, with the understanding that they will attend the Summer Sessions of 1950 and 1951, and that they will be eligible for graduation in June, 1952. To be assured of consideration for this class, formal applications should be filed prior to December 10, 1949. Transcripts accompanying such applications should contain the grades earned in all completed courses and a listing of all courses (with respective semester hours) in progress during the Fall Semester of 1949-1950.

THE SUMMER SESSION

The Law School conducts an eight-week Summer Session each year. Students beginning the study of law in February are required to attend the two Summer Sessions between admission and graduation. Students beginning in September are not required to attend, but are urged to broaden the scope of their legal education by taking a partial or a full (three courses) program in the Summer Session. However, such optional courses will not accelerate the date of graduation nor will they lessen the class load during the regular school year. All summer courses will be conducted four hours each week and will carry credit for two semester hours. Credits and grades received in summer courses will be integrated with the credits and grades of the previous school year in the determination of academic standing. Students in good academic standing at other approved law schools are welcome to enroll for summer courses at Boston College.

APPROVAL

The Boston College Law School is a member of the Association of American Law Schools. It is fully approved by the American Bar Association, and by the Board of Regents of the State of New York. These are the only recognized accrediting agencies for law schools in the United States.

THE LAW LIBRARY

The Law Library at present contains more than thirty thousand volumes and substantial additions are made each year. The Library contains several sets of the United States Reports, the Massachusetts Reports, the reports of the other New England States, the reports of all other state courts of last resort up to the National Reporter System, the entire National Reporter System, the Illinois Appellate Courts Reports, the English Reports Full Reprint, the Law Reports, the All England Law Reports, and the Times Law Reports. The section of annotated reports includes such reports as the American Decisions, the American Reports, the American State Reports, the Lawyers' Reports Annotated, the American Law Reports, the American and English Annotated Cases, the English Ruling cases, and the Lawyers' Edition of the United States Supreme Court Reports.

In accordance with the development and increasing importance of public law in the United States, the Library contains a large section of public law materials, particularly the reports and decisions of administrative bodies, such as the Public Utilities Reports, the Decisions of the Commissioner of Patents, the reports of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Federal Communications Commission, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Board of Tax appeals, the National Labor Relations Board, the Tax Court of the United States, the Massachusetts Board of Tax Appeals, the Federal Trade Commission, the Federal Power Commission, the Comptroller General of the United States, the Attorney General, and the Department of the Interior.

In its section of statutory material, the Library contains the United States Statutes at Large, the United States Code Annotated, the Massachusetts Statutes, the Annotated Laws of Massachusetts, the statutes of the other New England states, the statutes of a large number of other states, the Statutes at Large and the Public General Statutes of England, and Halsbury's Statutes of England.

The Library contains all current law journals and reviews, and a large section of treatises and text-books. The standard legal digests and encyclopedias are available, such as the American Digest, the Supreme Court Digest, Ruling Case Law, Corpus Juris and Corpus Juris Secundum, American Jurisprudence, the Massachusetts Digest, the Federal Digest, the English and Empire Digest, Words and Phrases, Halsbury's Laws of England and the Canadian Abridgment. The Library is a depository of the works on International Peace of the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace.

The Law Library is supervised by a full-time librarian and a staff of assistants. It is open for the use of students from 9:00 A. M. to 10:00 P. M., Mondays through Fridays; from 10:00 A. M. to 6:00 P. M. on Saturdays; and from 1:00 P. M. to 6:00 P. M. on Sundays.

THE JAMES B. CARROLL READING ROOM

Additional library facilities are available to the students of the Boston College Law School through the generosity of the late Mrs. Mary E. Carroll of Springfield, Massachusetts, who donated to the School the entire personal law library of her husband, the Hon. James B. Carroll, former Associate Justice of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts. This large collection, valuable for its contents and its memories, is shelved in a special section of the main Law Library designated as the James B. Carroll Reading Room. A large oil painting of the late Mr. Justice Carroll is enshrined in the midst of the books which he used so skillfully and devotedly during his seventeen years of eminent public service on the supreme judicial tribunal of Massachusetts.

In addition to the Law School Library, the University Library of Boston College, which is situated on the campus at University Heights and contains more than two hundred thousand volumes, is available to the students of the Law School. Students have easy access to the world-famous Public Library of the City of Boston, which contains more than two million volumes, and to the Massachusetts State Library of more than six hundred thousand volumes.

THE NISI PRIUS CLUB

The Nisi Prius Club is an informal organization, under the direction of a member of the Faculty, which supplements formal classroom instruction by providing a forum for the discussion of the law in action. Bi-monthly meetings are conducted at which addresses are delivered by members of the judiciary, administrative officials, practicing attorneys and others whose knowledge and experience afford a practical insight into the more pressing problems in the administration of justice. Special attention is devoted to the practice and procedure of courts and administrative agencies. An open discussion period follows each address. Membership in the Club is open to students of all classes.

THE LAW CLUBS

The Law Clubs and the Bostonia Competition provide a most important supplement to the formal academic instruction of the Boston College Law School. The purpose of the Law Clubs is to give the student practical instruction and experience in the analysis of legal problems, in the use of law books and legal research, in brief writing, and in the preparation and presentation of cases before appellate courts.

Students participating in law club work are divided into small voluntary groups of eight comprising the various law clubs. Although membership is voluntary, all students are encouraged to take part because of the valuable training and experience derived from the activities of the clubs. Practicing attorneys are appointed as Law Club Instructors, whose function is to guide and to criticize the work of club members.

Cases of varying difficulty and complexity are assigned to the different clubs according to the amount of formal instruction already received by the members of the particular clubs. The assigned problem is analyzed, briefs are prepared, and the case is argued on an intra-club basis before the Law Club Instructor. Subsequently, the cases are prepared and argued on an inter-club basis before courts composed of Law Club Instructors and members of the Law Faculty. At the conclusion of each inter-club argument the court delivers a criticism and appraisal of the preparation, the briefs, and the argumentation of the case. Outstanding law club work is officially noted on the students' academic record.

THE BOSTONIA COMPETITION

The assignment of cases to the various law clubs is arranged so that the inter-club arguments form a competitive scheme which by a process of elimination, culminates in the final argument of the Bostonia Competition. Each year the final argument of the Bostonia Competition is conducted in public before a court composed of Justices of the State and Federal Courts.

Students who argue cases in the quarter-finals, the semi-finals, and in the final argument of the Bostonia Competition have the fact honorably noted in their official scholastic records.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council affords a ready means of contact between the student body, the Alumni and the Faculty of the Law School. It provides an opportunity for the expression of student opinion, and for consultation with the Dean and Faculty on all matters affecting the interests and welfare of the student body.

The membership of the Student Council is determined partly by academic standing and partly by election, being composed of the highest ranking student in each class and the president thereof. If the president of a class is also its highest ranking student, the second ranking student is appointed to the Student Council. The fact of membership in the Student Council is honorably noted on the student's official academic record.

PRE-LEGAL STUDIES

The minimum quantitative requirement for admission to the Law School as a regular student and candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Laws is one-half the number of credits acceptable for a specific academic degree at an approved college or university. Credits earned in the armed forces must be evaluated and accepted by the approved college or university last attended or at which the applicant has done the major part of his collegiate work. If this evaluation is impossible, credits earned in the service will be evaluated by the College of Arts and Sciences of Boston College.

Specific pre-legal courses are not prescribed; and college courses which undertake to teach law expressly, such as "Business Law" or "Commercial Law" or "Corporation Law", are not advised. A sound pre-legal education should develop in the future law student a clear reasoning power, a faculty of accurate expression, a balance of judgment, and an ability to appreciate the moral, social and economic problems involved in the administration of justice in modern society.

For this purpose, a rigorous classical liberal arts program is suggested. In the choice of electives, the selection of professors is probably more important than the selection of courses. It is strongly advised that pre-legal students elect professors who exact a large volume of work and independent thinking from their classes. Elective courses may be profitably taken in accounting, in the fields of economics and sociology and in American and English constitutional history.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Applicants for admission to the Boston College Law School as regular students, candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Laws, must possess a bachelor's degree from an approved college or university; or, at the minimum, must have completed:

Quantitatively, one-half the credits acceptable by an approved college or university for a specific academic degree; qualitatively, such credits must have been earned with a grade average, based upon all work undertaken, at least equal to the average required for such degree.

SPECIAL STUDENTS

A limited number of applicants, who cannot meet the requirements for admission as regular students, may be accepted as special students, in the discretion of the Committee on Admissions. The category of special students is not designed for applicants whose collegiate work is qualitatively unsatisfactory. Applicants for admission as special students must present substantial evidence that, by reason of experience and achievement, their informal education has equipped them adequately to pursue the study of law. Special students must take the regular law course under the same standards and conditions as regular students; upon the successful completion of the course, they are awarded the degree of Bachelor of Laws.

AUDITORS

A limited number of applicants, who do not wish to study for a degree, but who desire to enroll in specific courses may be admitted as auditors, in the discretion of the Committee on Admissions. Applicants for admission as auditors must present evidence of their capacity to pursue such courses with profit. Auditors must prepare and participate in classroom discussions; they are not required to take examinations, but may elect to do so. Normally, credit will not be certified for such work.

ADVANCED STANDING

An applicant qualified for admission as a regular or special student, who has satisfactorily completed part of his law course in another law school, approved by the Association of American Law Schools or by the American Bar Association, may be admitted to upper classes with advanced standing. The amount of credit granted for such previous work is discretionary with the Committee on admissions. At least two complete semesters will be required in residence at Boston College immediately preceding the award of a degree.

ADMISSION PROCEDURE

Applicants for admission to the Boston College Law School should communicate with the Registrar, Boston College Law School, 18 Tremont Street, Boston 8, Massachusetts. Official application forms and any desired information concerning admission requirements or procedure will be furnished. Application must be made in writing upon the official form; and, as noted therein:

1. Official transcripts of all collegiate, graduate and professional study must be sent directly to the Registrar of the Boston College Law School by the registrars of the institutions in which such work has been done.

2. Letters of recommendation concerning the applicant must be sent directly to the Registrar of the Boston College Law School by three responsible persons, not relatives and preferably attorneys in practice.

3. Except by veterans entitled to study under the terms of Public Law 16 or 346, an application fee of five dollars ($5.00) must be sent to the Registrar, in the form of a check or money order payable to the order of the Boston College Law School. This application fee will be retained if the application is accepted; it will be refunded if the application is rejected.

When the completed application form, all requisite transcripts, letters of recommendation, and the application fee (except as to veterans as in 3, above) have been received, the applicant will be advised by mail of the decision upon his application. A personal interview may be required by the Committee on Admissions.

REGISTRATION

Successful applicants must register personally in the Registrar's Office before or during the regular registration period indicated in the current Law School Bulletin. No registration fee is charged for timely registration; but, if an applicant or student is permitted to register after the regular registration period, he will be charged a late registration fee of five dollars ($5.00). Veterans entitled to study under the terms of Public Law 16 or 346 are not required to pay fees or tuition in advance; however, to take advantage of this privilege, they must file their certificates of eligibility before registration. As a means of identification, particularly for placement purposes, each applicant is required to present, at the time of registration, a recent unmounted passport-size photograph.

GRADING SYSTEM

Academic standing is determined by written examinations conducted at the conclusion of each course. The quantitative unit of credit is the semester hour, which is equivalent to one hour of class work per week for one semester of not less than sixteen weeks duration. The qualitative standard determining academic standing, advancement and graduation, is the grade quotient as explained below.

Academic achievement in individual courses is indicated by the following letter grades, to which are assigned the following respective point values per semester hour:

A+ = 6	B+ = 4.5	C+ = 3	F = 0
A = 5.5	B = 4	C = 2.5
A- = 5	B- = 3.5	D = 2	P = 2

In each course, the number of grade points earned is computed by multiplying the point value of the letter grade attained by the number of semester hours devoted to the course. General academic standing, for any given period of time, is determined by dividing the total number of grade points earned during the period by the total number of semester hours undertaken. The result is the grade quotient, which is cumulative throughout the student's law school career.

Grade D indicates a low pass, grade F indicates a failure, and grade P indicates a successful re-examination in a course originally failed; the value of P is the same as that of D. A student with an F grade, if permitted to remain in the School, has the privilege of taking the next regular examination in the course. If this privilege is not exercised, or if the re-examination is unsuccessful, the original F becomes permanent. A student exercising the privilege of re-examination may elect to repeat the class work of the course, but is not required to do so; he must fulfill the current examination requirements of the course. Special examinations are never given, except when a course is discontinued or when no regular examination is scheduled prior to graduation.

For the degree of Bachelor of Laws, the lowest passing grade in any individual course is D; but for advancement with satisfactory standing, and for graduation, the student must earn, on the basis of all work undertaken, a cumulative grade quotient of at least 2:5—which is the equivalent of a general weighted average of C. The cumulative grade quotient, rather than individual course grades, is the critical standard determining academic standing.

ACADEMIC STANDING

The general academic standing of a student, at any given time, is determined by his cumulative grade quotient as follows:

- Above 4.9 — summa cum laude
- 4.5 to 4.9 — magna cum laude
- 4.0 to 4.4 — cum laude
- 3.5 to 3.9 — Dean's list
- 2.5 to 3.4 — satisfactory
- Below 2.5 — deficient

A student with deficient academic standing, if permitted to continue in the School, is automatically and without official notification on probation. Whenever, after any examination period, a student's academic record, in the judgment of the Faculty, raises substantial doubt as to his ability to complete the entire law course with a cumulative grade quotient of 2.5, he may be advised to withdraw; whenever a student's academic record, in the judgment of the Faculty, warrants the conclusion that he cannot complete his entire law course with a cumulative grade quotient of 2.5, he will be officially excluded for failure to attain or maintain the required grade quotient.

A student who has been excluded from the School because of a deficient grade quotient has the privilege of one written petition to the Faculty for reinstatement. The purpose of this privilege is solely to provide the excluded student with an opportunity to present to the Faculty specific facts, not contained in the academic record, which rebut the presumption of the record and have a substantial relevance to the student's legal capacity. Reinstatement is never granted unless the written petition convinces the Faculty that extraordinary circumstances have so handicapped the student as to deprive him of a fair and reasonable opportunity to prepare for the examinations which caused his exclusion. Reinstatement, if granted, will be on terms appropriate to each case. If the terms of reinstatement provide for the repeating of an academic year, the grades earned in such repetition will be substituted in toto for the grades earned the previous year.

ATTENDANCE

Regular attendance and diligent preparation of all assigned work is required. For excessive absences or inadequate preparation of class work, students may be excluded from the School for unsatisfactory application. Law students may not register in any other department of Boston College, or in any other college or university, without the written consent of the Dean of the Law School.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

The Trustees of Boston College confer the degree of Bachelor of Laws upon candidates recommended by the Faculty of the Law School. To merit such recommendation candidates must complete the entire law course, as prescribed by the Faculty and outlined in the Program of Instruction, with a minimum of seventy-six (76) credits and with a cumulative grade quotient, based upon all work undertaken, of at least 2.5.

All candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Laws must follow the prescribed schedule of courses and must carry a full program during the regular academic year. This requirement may be varied, in the discretion of the Dean, but only for good cause presented in writing. Credits earned in the Summer Session will not ordinarily be considered good cause for decreasing the required number of credit hours prescribed for the regular academic year.

The minimum period of required residence for the degree of Bachelor of Laws is three years (six full semesters) in the Morning Division, and four years (eight full semesters) in the Evening Division. However, the calendar time of required residence for students admitted to begin the study of law in the Morning Division in February is two and one-third years. Students admitted with advanced standing to upper classes must complete at least two full semesters in residence at Boston College immediately preceding the award of a degree.

Leave of absence from the Law School, with the right to re-enter and resume candidacy for a degree, will be granted only for good cause presented in writing to the Dean. A student who withdraws from the School, without leave of absence from the Dean, may be re-admitted to the School only upon written petition to, and under the terms imposed by, the Faculty. Except for extraordinary reasons, approved by the Faculty, all students must complete the requirements for the degree of Bachelor of Laws within four years from the date of enrollment in the Morning Division, and within five years from the date of enrollment in the Evening Division.

A student may not transfer from the Morning to the Evening Division, or vice versa, except for good cause presented in writing and approved by the Dean. Students who make such a transfer are cautioned that they thereby become irregular students; as such, they cannot be given any guarantee of the availability of courses to enable them to graduate within a specific time. Applicants for admission are cautioned that the program of studies in the Morning Division demands full-time study; the Evening Division is conducted for the benefit of those who find it necessary to engage in outside employment.

HONORS

The following honors are awarded with the degree of Bachelor of Laws: cum laude, to students compiling a grade quotient of 4.0 to 4.4; magna cum laude, to students compiling a grade quotient of 4.5 to 4.9; summa cum laude, to students compiling a grade quotient of 5.0 to 6.0. Grade quotient requirements for honors may be modified, in the discretion of the Faculty, by consideration given for outstanding achievement in law club work.

The Law Faculty reserves the right to change the requirements for admission, the program of instruction, the requirements for degrees and honors, and all regulations affecting the student body, whenever such changes are deemed necessary or advisable. Such changes may be made applicable to students already enrolled in the School.

GRADUATE LAW COURSES

Courses leading to the degrees of Master of Laws and Doctor of Juridical Science have not yet been offered in the Boston College Law School. It is planned, however, to inaugurate such graduate courses as soon as the proposed new Law School Building is ready for occupancy. It is hoped that graduate students will be admitted in September, 1952. The program of graduate studies, admission and degree requirements, will be published later in this Bulletin.

EXPENSES

All tuition and fees for each semester or summer session are payable in advance at the time of registration,—except in the case of veterans who have presented, prior to registration, certificates of eligibility to study under the benefits of Public Law 16 or 346. Students may not register or attend classes until such advance payment has been made, certificate of eligibility has been filed, or special written arrangements have been made with the Treasurer of Boston College.

TUITION

The Regular School Year: Tuition in the Morning Division is $400 per annum; in the Evening Division, $300 per annum; one-half the annual tuition is payable in advance of each semester at the time of registration. The Summer Session: Tuition for the full program of three courses in the Summer Session is $100 payable in advance at the time of registration. The tuition rate for a partial program, at any time of the year, is $20 per semester hour.

FEES

Ordinary Fees: The application fee of $5, payable with the formal application for admission, is refunded if the application is rejected. The graduation fee of $20, payable at the time of registration for the final semester, is refunded if the student is not graduated. The library fee of $5 per semester, and $3 per Summer Session, payable in advance at the time of registration, is not refundable. There is no fee for timely registration and there are no other ordinary fees charged in the School. Extraordinary Fees: A student permitted to register after the regular registration period will be charged a late registration fee of $5. A student permitted to take a delayed examination or a re-examination will be charged a fee of $5 per examination. There are no other fees charged in the School.

WITHDRAWALS

If a student is excluded from the School for a deficient grade quotient, or if a student is advised to withdraw for the same reason and gives written notice of withdrawal within one week of such advice, a refund will be made of all tuition and fees for courses undertaken after the examinations upon which such Faculty advice or exclusion was based. If a student gives written notice of withdrawal for other causes before the expiration of the first two weeks of class, one-half the tuition will be refunded; if the withdrawal occurs after the first two weeks of class, tuition will not be refunded—except in deserving cases of hardship upon written request to the Trustees of Boston College. The Trustees of Boston College reserve the right to change the rate of tuition and fees whenever such change is deemed necessary or advisable; such changes may be made applicable to students already enrolled in the School.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Unless otherwise set out in the terms of a particular trust, all scholarships in the Boston College Law School are awarded upon the dual basis of academic ability and financial need. At present the following scholarships are available:

The John B. Creeden, S.J., Scholarships, established by the Trustees of Boston College in memory of the eminent Jesuit educator, former President of Georgetown University, whose energy and foresight resulted in the foundation of the Boston College Law School. These are four scholarships, two full and two one-half scholarships, available to outstanding graduates of Boston College and Holy Cross College. Beneficiaries must remain on the Dean's list to retain these scholarships.

The Edmund Fabian O'Connell Scholarship, in the principal sum of $8000.00, established in 1946 by Patrick A. O'Connell of Boston, in memory of his son, Edmund Fabian O'Connell.

The University Scholarships, of varying amounts, made available from time to time by the Trustees of Boston College, from scholarship funds applicable to students of the various schools of the University.

In addition to scholarship assistance, there are a limited number of part-time positions, as Library Assistants, available to deserving students.

HOUSING

The Bursar of the Law School maintains a list of private homes in which rooming facilities are available for students of the Boston College Law School:

THE RED MASS

The traditional ceremony popularly called the "Red Mass" is the Solemn Votive Mass of the Holy Spirit celebrated at the beginning of the judicial year, and attended by members of the bench and bar of all religious faiths, for the purpose of invoking the blessing and guidance of Almighty God in the administration of justice. The popular name of the Red Mass is probably derived from the predominating color which surrounded the ancient ceremony. Centuries ago the attending justices wore judicial robes of bright scarlet; and, because the Mass is that of the Holy Spirit, the vestments worn by the officers of the Mass have always been red. Moreover, the prayer proper to this Mass beseeches the aid of the Holy Spirit, traditionally symbolized by the flaming fire of Divine Wisdom.

The precise origin of the Red Mass is obscured by its very antiquity. The tradition goes back many centuries in the Old World, particularly in Rome, Paris, and London. From time immemorial this beautiful ceremony has officially opened the judicial year of the Sacred Roman Rota. During the reign of Louis IX, Saint Louis of France, La Sainte Chappelle was officially dedicated as the proper setting for the service. This magnificent edifice, erected more than seven hundred years ago, was used but once a year and then for the Red Mass. The custom in England began in the early Middle Ages. Even during the hazards of World War II, English judges and lawyers of all religious faiths annually attended the Red Mass in Westminster Cathedral to seek the assistance of Almighty God in the discharge of the sacred responsibilities of their profession.

IN NEW ENGLAND

The Boston College Law School was honored and privileged to introduce this ancient and beautiful ceremony to New England on Saturday, October 4, 1941. Fifteen hundred distinguished members of the bench and bar, of all religious faiths, filled the Church of the Immaculate Conception for the occasion. The tradition of the Red Mass, thus carried from the Old World to the New, from remote antiquity to the twentieth century, is continued annually under the sponsorship of His Excellency, Richard J. Cushing, Archbishop of Boston. The Eighth Annual Red Mass in New England was celebrated Saturday, October 2, 1948, by Very Reverend William L. Keleher, S.J., President of Boston

College; the address was delivered by Very Reverend Robert I. Gannon, S.J., President of Fordham University. A solemn procession of guests of honor preceded the ceremony, as follows:
